

Science in the News presents...

Interested in science outreach?

Looking for a great volunteer opportunity with flexible hours?

Check out DayCon, a day-long science conference for the general public!

We are currently looking for motivated individuals to fill committee positions – no prior experience necessary! Stay tuned for a call for day-of volunteers in Spring 2020.

Want to join? Fill out the interest survey at this QR code by November 11th. Contact us at sitn.daycon@g.harvard.edu with any questions.
