

Are you interested in teaching and mentoring undergraduates?
Want to get valuable training and hands-on experience?
Want to earn your full 60-hour teaching credit?

Apply to be a teacher for the

Wellesley Wintersession Biochemistry Bootcamp

January 16-18, 22-25, 2019 @ Wellesley College

(All training, lunch, and transportation will be provided)

As part of the program, you will:

- Receive small group training in teaching, diversity, and mentoring
- Get feedback on teaching pitfalls and techniques
- Develop and teach your own lectures to Wellesley undergraduates
- Guide and mentor Wellesley undergraduates in hands-on lab modules

Space is very limited, so your full commitment is required as follows:

- 10 hours total of intensive training from November to January
- 50 hours total (full-time) during the course: Jan 16-18, 22-25, 2019
- 100% time commitment is required to receive teaching credit
